GLENDALE (LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE), LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1911

No. 19

CITY TRUSTEES

Lumber Yards Not Properly Equipped for Fire—Hotel Wants Billiard and Pool Room Permit

All members present. Auditing committee reported that the auditor would finish his work on Tuesday. The deputy street superintendent reported that he had investigated the complaint regarding condition of Ninth street and had ordered the gas and water companies to do necessary work on their excavations; also had requested property owners to trim trees etc. The manager of electric light department reported in regard to taking poles off Fourth street, that property owners interviewed are in favor of an electroliner system extending from Everett street to Brand boulevard on Fourth and from Third to Fifth street on Brand, the same to be done under the statute for making such improvements. He recommended that the Home Telephone Co. be allowed to place its lines on the lighting system poles on Third and Fifth streets. To investigate further and report.

The public works committee reported having examined the specifications for proposed city hall in conjunction with building inspector and will recommend a few alterations; referred back to committee to take up with architect.

The clerk reported that the trustees of the grammar schools would give deed for east and west alley in Block 7 and that deed to alley in Tract 618 had been placed on record.

Marshal reported that the different lumber yards are not properly equipped with fire apparatus. The fire and public safety committee was instructed to prepare an ordinance to fit the case.

The deputy street superintendent reported that Fourth street between Brand and Glendale avenue had been repaved at an expense of one hundred and thirty dollars and that further work on street would be done in the way of oiling and rolling.

The city attorney reported that he had written to the trustees of the high school in regard to delinquent taxes and had no reply.

A communication was received from Brewster & Haviland requesting that steps be taken permitting them to add a billiard and pool room to their equipment. Referred to committee of the whole.

The building inspector was given permission to reside at the beach for two weeks, attending to business as usual.

Application to do street work by private contract on a portion of Second street was received from H. C. Tupper; granted, provided sidewalk mentioned, be made five feet wide instead of four. This matter came to a vote, the following voting aye: Lane, Watson, White and Williams; no, Coker.

The board listened to arguments of property owners in the proposed assessment district for widening Brand boulevard to the effect that the proposed increase in width of seven feet on each side is insufficient. The ordinance was laid over for one week.

The question whether the Glendale and Eagle Rock Railway Co. may be required to lower grade of their right of way on Eagle Rock road to conform to grade established by the city was referred to city attorney.

Mr. Hancock as a committee from Chamber of Commerce addressed the board on the subject of providing quarters for the chamber in the proposed city hall. Referred to the committee on public works in conjunction with city attorney and architect. Demands were approved. The city attorney was instructed to provide for the inspection of weights and measures and for the appointment of a sealer. The city marshal in conjunction with the deputy street superintendent was instructed to enforce the ordinance in regard to awnings. The board adjourned to meet Wednesday evening, August 30th.

LA CANADA TO BE SCENIC DRIVE.

Work was started on the extension of the Foothill boulevard of the county good roads system, from Devil's Gate through the La Canada valley. A large force of graders have established a camp in the Arroyo Seco.

The grade of the old La Canada road is being lowered and will be finished with macadam surface. The road will be 32 feet in width. It will continue as far as the La Canada church where a new road is being constructed from Verdugo which will connect with the La Canada road and make one of the finest scenic drives in Southern California.

The Devil's Gate bridge, located at a wonderfully beautiful spot on the Arroyo Seco has been greatly strengthened, and the approaches graded. Highland Park Herald.

MORE LIGHT

Good Prospect of Having Fourth Street Brilliantly Illuminated

Manager Harry Lynch of the lighting department is hard at work on a plan for lighting Fourth street from Central avenue to Everett street or further, which seems to promise success. The plan depends first upon getting all of the general utilities to remove their poles from the street and this seems quite possible of accomplishment, the Sunset Telephone Co. it is understood, being willing to put their wires under ground and the other concerns being inclined to help the good work along.

The plan is to have five-cluster lights placed 100 feet apart on these streets. The extra cost will be borne by the property owners and will amount probably to over a dollar a foot on the frontage. The work is done under the same or a law similar to that applying to other street improvements, a majority of the frontage represented on a petition can start the proceedings and an opportunity is given to protestants to be heard in opposition. Every property owner interviewed is heartily in favor of the improvement being made, recognizing it as one that will add much more than the expense to the value of the property.

GLENDALE'S VALUATION AND TAX RATE.

City Assessor Hoffman has completed the footing of the assessment roll and the total valuation of the property which will be assessed this year for all purposes within the corporate limits is $2,616,000. In addition to this is an assessment of $116,000 against the utilities corporations for their proportion of the municipal bonded indebtedness. These figures are subject to a few corrections which will make no considerable change. Against a tax roll about a million and a half last year this is not a bad showing. At the special meeting of the trustees Wednesday evening, the rate for the present year was fixed as follows:

At a special meeting of the trustees Wednesday evening, all members being present except Mr. Coker, a resolution was adopted fixing the tax rate for the present year as follows: General fund, .97; fire bond fund, .02; city hall and library site bond fund, .09; library fund, .09; total, $1.17. Deducting the nine cents levied to provide for interest on bonds voted during the year last ended, the rate is five cents lower than last year.

LARGE TRANSACTION IN BUSINESS PROPERTY.

Mr. Asa V. Fanest has bought of L. C. Brand, five and one-half lots on the west side of Brand boulevard between Third and Fourth streets. This is one of the choicest business locations in Glendale, in the opinion of many being the best. The frontage on Fourth street is 291 feet by a depth of 150. It is understood that the purchase price was at the rate of $2500 a lot, which is $50 a front foot.

HIGH SCHOOL.

All pupils having to take examinations to make up back work are to report at the high school Friday, Sept. 8th at 9 o'clock.

Pupils coming from other schools will be received for classification all day Friday and Saturday forenoon. School opens Monday, Sept. 11th. George N. Moyses, Principal.

AUTOMOBILE LICENSES.

Can now be obtained at the headquarters of the Automobile Club of Southern California, Eighth and Olive streets, Los Angeles. Something like 53,000 licenses have been issued in the state and the average for Southern California is from 300 to 500 a month.

GETS OFF EASY

F. B. Nickey Fined $100 for Embezzlement from the Glendale Pharmacy

For almost a year past, F. B. Nickey has been employed at the Glendale Pharmacy as drug clerk, and Mr. Zerr, the proprietor, had complete confidence in him. Tuesday evening of last week Nickey left a package at the Central Stable, Fourth and Maryland, to be called for by himself later. This he had been doing on many occasions previously and the frequency of the act led the proprietor, Mr. Zerr, to become suspicious on this last occasion and he reported the matter to Mr. Zerr. The latter examined the package, found that it contained articles from the drug store and Officer Everett thereupon laid in wait for the coming of Nickey. Some where about six o'clock Wednesday morning he called at the stable and was immediately placed under arrest. Later he was taken before Recorder Whomes and put under $1500 bonds to answer Saturday last. As Judge Whomes considered it a felony case, over which his court has no jurisdiction, he reported to the district attorney, who sent a detective out to investigate. Meanwhile Officer Everett had worked out of his prisoner by two or three hours of persistent questioning a confession not of the theft of this particular package only, but of as many as eight or nine others at different times. The package found in the prisoner's possession contained the following articles: 2 bottles Peruna, 1 quart alcohol, 2 boxes Talcum powder, 2 bottle face cream, dyspepsia tablets, 2 writing tablets, toilet soap. The value of the whole was something over four dollars. When the case came up Saturday the prisoner pleaded guilty and was fined $100, which was paid by his wife.

The fact that a man who had committed the crime of embezzlement, probably stealing during the months he had been employed several hundred dollars' worth of goods, could get off by the payment of a nominal fine excited much comment. Primarily this practical licensing of crime seems to rest with a defective law. The district attorney's office instructed Recorder Whomes that the articles found on the prisoner being of small value, the offense was merely petty larceny and that his office would not take action in the matter. This interpretation seems to be warranted by the fact that section (314) being as follows: "Every person guilty of embezzlement is punishable in the manner prescribed for feloniously stealing property of the value of that embezzled, etc." The punishment for petty larceny is a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars or imprisonment for not to exceed six months, or both. A number of persons seem to have interested themselves to have the culprit let off as lightly as possible.

BAND CONCERTS.

There was a fair attendance at the first concert given at the new band stand Thursday evening of last week and again last night. Under the direction of Mr. Thorp the boys rendered some very good music. These free concerts will take place every Thursday evening while the weather continues mild enough for the people to enjoy open air performances and should be encouraged by a good attendance of the people. The stand is located on Fourth street below Kenwood and was erected it will be recalled by the joint contribution of the Valley Improvement Association and the Chamber of Commerce.

CONSOLIDATION MEETING.

Next Tuesday evening, Sept. 5th, at Logan's hall, Tropic, there will be a meeting to discuss the merits of the question of consolidating Tropic and the surrounding country with the City of Los Angeles. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. Leslie Hewitt, A. W. Kinney of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and City Clerk Handley of Los Angeles, and Rev. J. H. Henry of Glendale, the latter will speak on "California." Everybody is invited.

MIDSUMMER PARTY.

Mrs. J. N. Witham, of 310 Lomita avenue, was hostess of a delightful midsummer gathering at her home on Tuesday afternoon, given in compliment to her daughter, Miss Adeline Wheeler, who will soon return to resume her work in Cuba. Miss Wheeler made the afternoon especially interesting by exhibiting a number of handsome photographs of her classes in the school where her work is carried on. The serving of dainty refreshments completed a thoroughly enjoyable visit.

LIBRARY NOTES.

Several of the best of the new fiction volumes are ordered for the library, among them the Winning of Barbara Worth, by Harold Bell Wright, the Harvesters, by Gene Stratton, the Ne'er do Well, by Rex Beach, and the Song of Cardinal, by Gene Stratton, author of Freckles and Girl of the Lumberlost.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE MEETING.

There will be a meeting Saturday evening, Sept. 2, at Pilger Opera House, under the auspices of the Good Government League, which will be addressed by Mrs. C. F. Edson and Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, both eloquent advocates of the Equal Suffrage movement. Everybody is invited.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

Residence, Tropic—W. A. Hough has let the contract for the erection of a $7000 residence at the corner of Central avenue and Tenth street. It will have three bathrooms, hardwood floors and finish, tile mantels, furnace and water heater.

W. O. House has awarded to C. B. Cunningham the contract for his residence on Mira Loma street. It will cost $3150.

Frank B. McKinley of Tropic, is building a one-story, seven-room house on Euclid street, near Brand to cost $2745.

Amy E. Coughlan has let contract to L. B. Burck Co. for erection of a two-story, ten-room residence, corner Gardena and Cerritos avenue, Tropic, cost $3825.

Frederic M. Lee of Huntington Beach has let a contract for the erection in Young's Glendale Orange Grove Tract, Tropic, of a six-room, frame cottage, to cost $2400.

Lieut. Gov. A. J. Wallace is to erect a 16-room residence at El Nido, La Canada, to be of the Tudor-Gothic style of architecture, to cost about $30,000. A real estate transaction of considerable importance was consummated last week whereby Mr. V. Price Brown sold his beautiful home on Brand boulevard near Milford, consisting of an elegant seven-room house and about 1 1/4 acres of ground, to Mr. W. H. Beach, a late arrival from the East. Mr. Beach is buying for a home and is to take immediate possession. The sale was made through the agencies of the Glendale Investment Co. and J. R. Lockwood.

The new real estate firm, Tupper-Robinson Company, put through a deal on Monday whereby a $20,000 orange grove at San Fernando was exchanged for Los Angeles property. Mr. Spencer Robinson takes the real estate business as one having real talent for the work, and is to be credited with this particular deal.

VALLEY VIEW TRACT IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

An interesting meeting of this association was held last Friday evening in the tent corner of Sixth and Columbus, President La Gross in the chair. Various committees submitted reports and reported progress. The chairman called for volunteers to serve upon two or three committees and the places were quickly filled. It was reported in regard to the structure placed on the front of a lot in the neighborhood in violation of the building restriction clause in the deed, that the owner of the lot had agreed to move the building or bring it up to the value required, by Sept. 1st. This had not been done yet, however, and it was stated that the association is ready to begin action to enforce the penalty named in the conveyance, if the promise is not kept. Mr. J. C. Sherer addressed the meeting on the possibilities of this section, contrasting present conditions with those existing 35 years ago. Mr. Frederick O'Brien spoke at some length in an entertaining vein, outlining the things of accomplishment by united effort. The president announced that Friday, Sept. 1st, would be a general clean-up day in the tract.

BUILDINGS FOR GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

In order to get the intermediate school started with the others on the 18th, the trustees have negotiated with the Crescent Lumber Company, of Los Angeles, to erect a temporary frame structure on the property on Third street which the district will acquire, to contain four rooms, the company to get the building ready for occupancy on the date named, take it down when it has served its purpose, and charge rental. The room being added to the Sixth Street school will be almost completed by the 18th but it may be necessary to have half-day sessions for the first grade for a few days.

A STRONG COMBINATION.

The firm of Tupper & Pierce, dealers in real estate, in the Bank of Glendale building, has reorganized and is now the Tupper-Robinson Co. Inc. Mr. Spencer Robinson, having gone into the firm which in addition to dealing in realty will conduct an automobile agency. Mr. Robinson having engaged in that business with remarkable success. The firm has several subdivisions of its own on the market now in addition to its large commission business and is an up-to-date combination of hustlers.

BRIDGE WHIST CLUB.

Mrs. J. W. Nethery was hostess of the Bridge Whist Club of Glendale at her home on Maple avenue, Thursday. A prettily appointed course luncheon was served to the members after which the afternoon was devoted to bridge.

You are invited to attend our services, where you will find a congenial atmosphere.

The Epworth League has many plans for the coming year. One plan is for a fine lecture course. Drs. Locke, Hughes, Beas and others will lecture in the course.

Mr. L. A. Monroe, who is assistant chief clerk in the passenger department of the Salt Lake Route, accompanied by his wife and daughter Blythe, have returned to their home on North Louise street, after an absence of thirty days, during which time they visited Detroit, Niagara Falls and Toronto, Ontario, going from there to New York via the Hudson River boat "Robert Fulton" from Albany, spending a few days each at New York, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Washington, D. C., stopping over a week in Indianapolis, Ind., on the return trip. Mr. Monroe was born and raised in Indianapolis, and this was his first visit there in fourteen years.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the First Methodist church, which met last Monday night, with Dr. F. D. Mather, district superintendent, in the chair, manifested a spirit of perfect harmony and enthusiastic interest in the formulation of plans of work for the coming conference year. Officers and committees elected will be found under the head of "church notes." The conference passed resolutions of appreciation of the pastor's faithful and efficient service and a unanimous request that he be returned to the church as pastor for another year. This will make the fourth year of Dr. Humphrey's pastorate of First church.

Mr. Harry Howe spent the last three days of last week in the Coachella valley, returning home Sunday. He is enthusiastic over the productive capacities of that section which is now settling up rapidly. The figures given as being received for products are almost incredible, but well established. For instance, grapes produce from $300 to $500 per acre; melons $100 to $250. Sweet potatoes $200 to $600. The record for grapes is a gross price of $29,987 for ten carloads.

VENISON.

One of the Verdugo family shot and brought down a yearling buck in the hills back of John Verdugo's place Wednesday morning. The successful hunter brought the carcass to Glendale and had it photographed. Tom Hutchinson and party who went into the Frazer mountain country when the season opened, returned Monday having secured one deer.

GLENDAL, CAL., SEPTEMBER 1, 1911

Los Angeles is to get six branch Carnegie libraries, and Highland Park is rejoicing over the location of one in that popular suburb.

Philadelphia scientists have demonstrated to their own satisfaction that a woman's aura is stronger than that of a man. This explains a lot of things hidden hitherto from mortal ken; notably the sudden accession of a great many men to the ranks of the supporters of the movement of equal suffrage, after having during many years of maturity been opposed to it.

Alhambra is agitating the question of municipal ownership of water. The board of trade and the city trustees have appointed a joint committee to investigate along three lines: the advisability of securing Owens river water; the purchase of the San Gabriel Water company's plant and to investigate other sources of supply.
Citizens seem united in a determination to have nothing inferior in quality to the city's present supply which is satisfactory in that respect.

BET SUGAR.

We have received a copy of a report on the relative merits of beet and cane sugar, issued by the agricultural department at Washington. According to this report it has been established as a fact that there is no difference in the sweetness of the two products when both are reduced to the same granulation. Now that this matter seems to be settled, it is up to the beet sugar trust to reduce their prices to the consumers to a fraction nearer to the cost of production which we believe is something between three and four cents a pound as brought out in testimony given on the witness stand a few years ago. We can conceive of no better way to popularize the product and at the same time justify the tariff on the imported article.

SMALLPOX AND VACCINATION.

The London Times of July 21st gives some interesting figures relating to the recent outbreak of smallpox in London. The information is contained in a report received by the managers of the Metropolitan Asylums district from their statistical committee. In all, seventy cases were treated, of which 46 were vaccinated and 22 unvaccinated. Of the 46 vaccinated patients only one died, rather over 2 per cent; while of the 22 unvaccinated patients 9 died, or nearly 41 per cent.
The other two cases were doubtful.
All of the members of the staff who had been revaccinated escaped the disease, but seven members of the infirm staff who had not been revac-cinated, contracted the disease. It would seem impossible to avoid the conclusion that vaccination is in most cases a sure preventive of this terrible and disgusting disease. X-Ray.

A SIMILAR CASE.

Los Angeles and Alhambra are in a race to see which first gets possession of a strip of territory known as Granada Park. It seems to be a case precisely similar to the one we had in this section a few months ago when although the east half of Tropicco got out its petition first for a vote on annexation to Glendale, the proponents of the plan to incorporate Tropicco as a city of the sixth class, succeeded in getting their election called first and won out. In the present instance the proposition to annex the strip to Los Angeles comes to a vote on Sept. 22nd, while the election on the question of annexation to Alhambra comes off on the 25th. The city clerk of Alhambra is quoted as expressing the opinion that notwithstanding the fact of Alhambra's election coming last that city can make good its claim to the territory regardless of the result of the election of the 22nd. This is a very doubtful proposition. The Tropico case is now before the supreme court which does not seem inclined to pass judgment upon it, and if Los Angeles was a party to the action, it's dollars to doughnuts that that city would win out. Does any one remember an instance in which the boosters for a "Greater Los Angeles" failed to carry their point with courts or legislatures?

TO TRY IT ON WHITTIER.

Miss Emma Hall is quoted as saying of her "Suffrage Retreat" near Whittier, "Only women will be allowed on the place and they must do all the work, wear overalls and have their hair cut short. In two months every one on the place will be able to cut wood, plow and swear. I am going to suggest they cultivate the use of the word 'damn.' I believe that some expletive in doing heavy work is almost necessary and I don't propose to have the atmosphere and the local color ruined by such terms as 'fudge' and 'oh, sugar.' Miss Hall seems to be on the smooth edge of a great discovery and is liable to slip on to it at any time. Her discovery that strong language is essential to any great physical undertaking is one of the most remarkable of the age. Day by day evidence is accumulating that woman has not yet found her place, but just now the search seems to be getting 'warm.' The sex should not lay too much stress upon the new find at once, however, but test it gently for a while. A course of elementary tuition by 'Wild Bill, the Brancho Buster' might help along greatly. It seems like the irony of fate that Whittier, of all places in the world, should be selected for the trying out of the new method of physical(?) research.

THE WATER QUESTION AGAIN.

A portion of Glendale and adjacent territory is inadequately supplied with water by a system of distribution that has no reservoir back of it and yet the price paid by the consumers is sufficient to warrant satisfactory service. If there is any effectual and practicable remedy in law it ought to be applied. The trouble is not due to an insufficient supply, although the poor service may naturally suggest that as a cause. Much of the present agitation over the water question locally, which frequently results in an outry for Owens river water (at any price) is due to this unsatisfactory service.

The demand of Los Angeles upon the near-by small cities that they now consent to be absorbed and debt ridden, because some time in the future they may need the thing which the greater city has to dispose of, is unreasonable and arbitrary and cannot be yielded to by a self-respecting community. The San Fernando valley needs the water and the owners of property at this end of it who require it for irrigation should be given a chance to get it on fair terms, but this need does not apply to the cities of Glendale and Tropicco which have an ample supply of water for a few years to come. Let it be demonstrated first that the Owens river water is good enough to drink, and then when we need it for domestic purposes, let us make the best bargain for it we can.
Aside from proper efforts to get good service from existing companies, the water question does not need constant agitation.

THE IMPENDING STRIKE.

For some time past there has been talk of a general strike of the employees of the railroads comprising the Harriman system. To contemplate the mere possibility of such a calamity conjures up visions of destruction of the property of innocent people in no way parties to the conflict, which are terrible as the worst of nightmares. Not property alone, but probably life will be sacrificed in this great struggle between capital and labor if it comes to pass.

Railroads are a necessity of our modern life; the general stoppage of railroad traffic would mean actual starvation to the people of certain communities dependent upon transportation lines for the necessities of daily life and would result in loss to every citizen directly or indirectly.
Strikes are wrong; but this does not mean that strikers are necessarily wrong; they may in rare cases be forced to use this means of protection.
Public utilities have become public necessities and nothing should be permitted to interfere with their working. In no way has statesmanship in this country been so conspicuously ineffective as in regard to the industrial question and in no other line of law making have our public men shown themselves so cowardly. If they had given one-half the thought to this important matter that they have given to schemes for the creation of automatic governmental machinery warranted to make the world good by pressing a button, strikes would long ago have been relegated to the 'museums of the things that belonged to the dark ages. Let us fervently hope that reason and justice may inspire the minds of employers and employes in their attempts to arrive at a common understanding and so avoid a contest in which both sides and the middle will lose much.

STATE PRINTER SCANDAL.

After many pretences at investigating the state printing offices a committee has actually reported finding evidences of "graft." One of the principal methods of working the people is in the preparation of school books.
The report shows that in December, 1910, the state printer had on hand enough cloth to bind 280,000 geographies; but on April 1st following he ordered enough more cloth to bind 120,000 more of them; the two lots aggregating about enough to last 13 years or so. Then with paper enough on hand for 64,000 volumes and 50,000 geographies on hand, he ordered enough more paper for 160,000 volumes. He paid $2.50 a pound for ink that could be bought for 75 cents. It looks as if Mr. Shannon has had a pretty good thing, but then he is a "good fellow" which covers a multitude of grafts sometimes.

"FOR POLITICS ONLY."

When President Taft asserts that the La Follette-Underwood wool bill was a bill for "politics only," he compels the American people who care to have an intelligent opinion on the matter, to weigh the reasons which he gives for the assertion and the result must, we believe, sustain him. In the first place, the insurgent leader was one of the loudest advocates of the creation of a tariff commission, in that position sustaining the president. The commission was created consisting of three Republicans and two Democrats.
It is the business of the commission to secure all available information in regard to the schedules of our intricate tariff system, without which, it was agreed by Mr. LaFollette, President Taft and the majority of congress, there could be no intelligent revision.

Tariff bills have heretofore been framed on no scientific plan, but in a haphazard manner by the trading system, one member conceding one thing and one another, every one trying to get the most for his particular district. President Taft has consistently advocated the creation of such a commission and was more responsible for its creation than any one else. When a legislative body appoints a committee to secure information as to a certain subject and report back to the appointing power, it is the invariable rule that no final action be taken in the matter until this report is received. This rule is fundamental and based on common sense. But it did not suit Mr. LaFollette and the Democratic majority to follow the beaten path, that would be too "regular" for their irregular ideas, so they "played politics." Schedule K, the wool tariff, is one of the most complicated of the hundreds of schedules comprising the tariff bill. There may be a few experts who understand the bearing and effect of its various rates and provisions, but certainly the average citizen or average congressman does not.
The commission is to hand in its report with all the data it has secured to the congress that convenes the first Monday in December. Notwithstanding these facts, Mr. LaFollette and his Democratic colleagues, prepared a wool bill to take the place of schedule K. The separate bill and the house bill differed greatly, but a conference committee fixed up a compromise bill, quite different from Mr. LaFollette's original measure, and it was rushed through just to "put Taft in a hole."
Had the bill become a law, no one can say with any certainty just what the effect would have been; but in view of the immense importance of the wool industry, both as to the raw product and the finished output of the factory, the interests at stake are so immense that no man desirous of acting with any pretense of justice would be willing to act hastily at the risk of working irreparable injury; particularly as within 90 days he was to be in possession of exact information on the subject. The president vetoed the bill and in his message on the subject gives such excellent reasons for doing so that no one who reads the message with unbiased mind can avoid the conclusion that he is absolutely right in declaring that it was a bill for "politics only."

LARGE CIVICS MEETING HELD IN LOS ANGELES BY GLENDALE CLUB WOMAN.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club, successor of Miss Bertha Moore of Pasadena to the chairmanship of the civics department of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, held the first meeting for the season of her department on Tuesday. The meeting was held in the Friday Morning Club House, and was in every way a marked success, the large attendance showing not only the interest manifested in civics, but how very acceptable Dr.
Russell is as chairman of the civic department, a position which she is admirably qualified to fill in a most capable manner.

Among other interesting motions was the one made by Mrs. E. C. Bellow, president of the Ebell Club, as a result of which it was decided to enlist the club women in creating a public sentiment against the dissenation of divorce, murder and other stories to excite the imagination of the young.

BELASCO—"FATHER AND THE BOYS."

Commencing with a special Labor Day matinee Monday, Burr McIntosh and the Belasco Theater Company will give George Ade's comedy, "Father and the Boys." This is the piece that served William H. Crane so well a year ago. In the Belasco production Mr. McIntosh will succeed in the Crane roll, and it ought to show him a histrionic fit very much like the proverbial wall paper affair.
"Father and the Boys" is a two-hour and a half laughless. There is a touch of melodrama at one point of the proceedings, but it is not enough to turn aside the flood of hilarity that inundates everything else in the play. There is a deft touch of romance introduced into the comedy, but this, too, pleasing as it is, has to give way very quickly to the Ade fun.
The Belasco patrons will find daily, clever little Besels Barricade in a part that she literally ought to "get up." It is that of a Western girl with a liking for expressive slang of the most modern sort. The entire Belasco organization will be concerned in the performance of "Father and the Boys," and the comedy should prove a welcome addition to the season's list of Belasco successes.

pital, but is reported as recovering.

Fearful Football.
Football had its enemies among the early Puritans in England. In 1583 one Philip Stubbes produced a work entitled "The Anatomie of Abuses," wherein there is a very fierce attack on football. The game was played with vigor in the sixteenth century: "Whosoever scapeth away the best goeth not scot free," writes the author. "but is either sore wounded, crased and bruised, so as he dyeth of it or else scapeth very hardlie, and no merruall, for they have the sleights to meet one betwixt two, to dashe him against the harte with the elbows, to hit him under the short ribs with their griped fists, and with their knees to catch him upon the hippees, and to pick him on the neck, with a hundred such murdering devices; and hereof groweth envy, malice, rancour, cholier, hatred, displeasure, enmities and what not els; and sometimes brawling, contention, quarrel picking, murder, homicide and great effusion of blood as experience teacheth."

The Puzzle Master.
To the present writer, who never got the hang of a single puzzle in all his life without help, Sam Lloyd was the most remarkable person in the world. For he invented 10,000 puzzles in more than half a century of diabolical activity. He began when he was six by scaring the cook with ventriloquial voices in the kitchen chimney and taking the rabbits out of the pockets of his mother's guests in the parlor. At ten he was a noted chess player and invented many chess problems. He studied to be an engineer, along with side dashes into painting and drawing, languages and mathematics. But his propensity to puzzle was too much for him. While still almost a youth he invented and drew a puzzle in fifteen minutes, printed the first edition at a cost of less than $5 and made $10,000. Who said he would have remained an engineer when he could make $10,000 in fifteen minutes?—American Magazine.

Cattle, Locusts and Railways.
In running railways in Brazil there are two difficulties to contend with which the European traveler does not know—cattle and locusts. The cattle cannot be kept off the track. Miles and miles of it are fenced in, and yet the cattle manage to force their way through and then cannot get out. The cowcatcher is efficient, but not sufficiently so, as the trains are often derailed by an ox being caught either between the cowcatcher or cylinder and the rail or even between the locomotive and the truss of a bridge, but such accidents are hardly ever serious. Locusts are less common, but occasionally travel along in clouds. When they come to earth they may pile up to a foot deep in the cuttings, and, of course, the locomotives will skid along uselessly. This happens but infrequently. —Cassier's Magazine.

Bridges in Korea.
Some idea of the delights of traveling in Korea is given by the following description by a traveler of the "bridges" in that country: A first class bridge in Korea is simply an assortment of planks nailed together. These are scarce. A second class bridge is a series of isolated stones, from one to another of which the visitor may jump. A third class bridge, much the commonest variety, is invisible. Its position being indicated by a couple of posts, one on each side of the river. They mean that you may safely wade across, as the water will probably not go much above your chest.

Creation of a Knight.
The ceremonies at the creation of a knight have been various. The principal were a box on the ear and a stroke with a sword on the shoulder. John of Salisbury tells us the blow with the naked fist was in use among the ancient Normans. By this it was that William the Conqueror conferred the honor of knighthood on his son Henry. It was afterward changed into a blow with the flat of the sword on the shoulder of the knight.

Hard to Find Things.
He—Where are my collars, dear?
She—I don't really know.
"Well, yesterday I couldn't find my shirts; this morning my ties were missing; now I can't find my collars. The only place I know worse than my bureau is my card index system!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Well, Rather.
"I think it is disgraceful to be enormously rich."
"Oh, so do I. I was brought up to think that way. But say?"
"Well?"
"Don't you wish once in awhile that you weren't so blamed respectable?"—Toledo Blade.

Well Answered.
An American woman who had been told by a Britisher that America was deficient in antiquities and curiosities remarked: "The antiquities will come. As for our curiosities, we import them."

Cautious.
Dr. Bill (meeting former patient)—Ah, good morning, Mr. Jones! How are you feeling this morning?
Mr. Jones—Doctor, does it cost anything if I tell you?

A Work of Genius.
An ideally brief and delightful advertisement comes from a London shop window. It runs: "Our trousers 6 shillings a leg. All seats free."

A Much Needed Lesson In an Unorthodox Setting.

BUT WHAT IS ORTHODOXY?

Pastor Russell Again Presents Bible Teachings In a New Light.

Brooklyn, N. Y., August 6.—Notwithstanding the summer season Brooklyn Tabernacle was crowded today. Pastor Russell took for his text the words of the Prophet David, "Whither shall I flee from Thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, Thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, Thou art there" Psalm cxxxix, 7, 8. We quote:
The Evolution theory and Higher Criticism of the Bible have today fostered unbelief to such an extent that everything intangible is doubted. Beginning with the college professor and the majority of the educated ministers this skepticism has embraced the wealthy, who are satiated with the blessings of prosperity. Their present attitude is one of doubt respecting everything connected with the Bible. They well know that outside the Bible there is nothing but guess work, and they prefer their own guesses to those of other people. Very many of them speak candidly and tell that they are agnostics, that they are uncertain and would like to be informed respecting the future. A very similar condition growingly prevails amongst the poorer classes and the uneducated.

The World's Need—A God.
The effect of all this loss of faith in an Almighty God is seen on every hand and is felt by many. One of the consequences is that the religious element of man's nature is becoming numb and the masses, rich and poor, are seeking a substitute in pleasure, as the Apostle's words foretold, they are "lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God." Additionally, many of the wealthy carry on a kind of brigandage along commercial lines. Desirous of imitating them, but unable to do so, others are filling the world with violence to an extent that is alarming to everybody. Were it not for our elaborate and costly police protection life and property would be far less secure in civilized lands than amongst the heathen. With all the protection afforded by telephone, telegraph, police, etc., our officials tell us that they are often bewildered in their attempts to preserve law and order.

Many learned men believe that there is no other God than nature, and many of the unlearned are following their lead. They reason that nature served them as both father and mother, that nature is pitiless, unsympathetic, cruel.

Thus faith in a god of nature and chance takes the place of faith in the God of the Bible, who dwells in heaven and whose intelligence and power extend throughout the Universe, in thousands of ways of which we are only learning—through electricity, radio activity, etc., besides angelic messengers that can come and go like the wind (Hebrews 1, 7, 14).

But the undermining of faith in the God of the Bible has been accomplished largely by the misrepresentation by many clergymen and religious leaders of the Bible's teaching. Our text, for instance, is supposed to teach that God is in heaven with the saints, rejoicing with them and that He also is in hell with the unsaintly, looking upon their sufferings and tortures and planning with devils for their everlasting continuance. Thinking minds are rejecting such nonsense, but alas, they are rejecting the Bible, too, having no foundation for a better, truer faith.

Is This View Unorthodox?
The word orthodox signifies "correct in doctrine." I admit that my presentation is not the ordinary one—but I claim that it is correct—it is the true doctrine of the Word of God. Then it is orthodox in the highest sense of that term; and everything to the contrary, being opposed to God's Word, must be unorthodox.

What Christendom needs today is a return to the Bible, an investigation of its teachings and a rejection of all human creeds, which are accepted more or less defective. Let us admit the Bible as the only standard. The masses known as Christendom are unchristian in every sense of the word. They are civilized heathen. The fault lies largely with many of the clergy. It is those that all who really believe in the Bible, who believe that Jesus left the glory of the Father and gave His life, thus providing the redemptive price for all men should proclaim these facts clearly, positively. They should declare, as do the Scriptures, the Second Coming of the Redeemer and the establishment of His Kingdom in Divine Power for the putting down of sin and the lifting up of mankind to glorious privileges of restitution, with a just penalty against every form of sin, and the Second Death as the penalty for wilful, persistent disobedience.

The machine shall be provided with a transverse distributing cylinder of such length that it will spread oil over a width of road of eight (8) feet in each course, in order to prevent overlapping or necessity for "bucketing" or patching with oil as is required with rollers of less width.

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along the lines of the roadway of said First Street from the East line of Brand Boulevard to a point 150 feet East from the East line of Jackson Street (excepting along such portions of the lines of said roadway upon which a cement curb has already been constructed on the official line and grade), in accordance with the Specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 2. Said curbs shall be curved on the specified radius to meet the curb lines of all intersecting streets as tangents.

Third: That a cement sidewalk five (5) feet in width be constructed along each side of said First Street from the East line of Brand Boulevard to a point 150 feet East from the East line of Jackson Street (excepting such portions of said First Street between said points along which a cement sidewalk four feet or more in width has already been constructed to the official line and grade), said sidewalk to be constructed according to Specifications for the construction of cement sidewalks on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 1. Fourth: That culverts shall be constructed at the intersections on First Street and Maryland Avenue, First Street and Louise Street, First Street and Kenwood Street, and First Street and Jackson Street, in accordance with Special Plans and Specifications for the construction of said culverts on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, which Special Plans and Specifications were duly adopted for said work by Resolution No. 399 by the Board of Trustees of said City.

SEC. 2. That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer that the total cost of said improvement will be greater than fifty cents per front foot along each line of said street, including the cost of intersections, and it is hereby determined, in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved February 27, 1893, as amended by an act of the Legislature of the State of California, which amending said last named Act, that bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said improvement. Said bonds shall be serial, extending over a period of ten years from their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable, by coupon, on the second day of January of every year after their date, until the whole are paid, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum on all sums unpaid, payable semi-annually, by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid.

Bidders must file with each proposal or bid, a check payable to the order of the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent. of the aggregate of the proposal, or a bond for the said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify before any officer competent to administer oaths, for double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. In bidding use blanks which will be furnished by the City Clerk upon application.

"I see," said Slaters, "that our old friend Blinks had a strong article in one of the Boston papers the other day."

"Really?" said Blinks incredulously. "I'd never have believed that of old Bink. What was it?"

"A recipe for pickled onions," said Slaters.—Harper's Weekly.

CHAPTER XXI.

PHILIP stood looking after him a moment, puzzled, and as Breed turned the corner Dr. Zephaniah came from a room opposite. He, too, looked at the retiring form of Breed and then turned his thick spectacles in Kelvin's direction. "Did he borrow any money of you?" he asked abruptly, every hair of his flaming beard apparently pointing outward in indignant query. "One hundred and fourteen dollars," replied Kelvin, smiling. "I knew it," declared Zephaniah. "Don't let him have any more. The man has gone money mad. Every time he sees a dollar of cash he must have it. He borrows my salary from me regularly, sometimes the very day he pays it to me. He borrows money from Mrs. Rensselaer, from Rollins, from Herbert, even from the servants, and every penny of it he hoards. When any of them protests he reluctantly pays it back by check."

"I did not know that he was so weak," said Kelvin, shocked. "I have been aware that the condition was growing upon him, but I had no idea that he had gone so far with his eccentricities." "Eccentricities?" snorted the doctor. "He's crazy—crazy as a loon. You're all crazy, the whole crowd of you, victims of the American craving for what you call success. Breed is mad for money; Mrs. Rensselaer is mad for social position; her nephew is mad for military conquest; Blagg is mad for notoriety. You are the maddest of them all—mad with the thirst for power. It is going to end in a crash, with all your institutions, all your ideals, all your ends and aims and ambitions clattering down about your ears, the most thoroughly shattered and crumbled wreck and ruin of a social structure in the history of the world. As nations have risen, so have they fallen. Those that have been the most rapid in their rise to supremacy have been the most rapid in disintegration. Already your pro rata birth rate is decreasing, and a century will see America as sterile as France."

Kelvin nodded his head with an emphatic jerk. "That is precisely why there must be an utter change in our entire social system. But I did not know that you had devoted so much thought to these things."

"Bah!" exploded the doctor, snapping the fingers of both hands. "I don't talk all I think. I have talked too much now, but in my desk I have manuscripts so thick, and with his hands he indicated a pile nearly a foot high. 'It is my great book on national neuroticism. I came to America to study it. Do you suppose that I would have taken the position of house physician to Mr. Breed if I had not found clustered about him exactly the material I wished for my book on alienism? No! I have spent a lifetime on neural deterioration considered from a racial standpoint. I spent a year and a half in China, one in Japan, one in Russia, three in France, two in England and five years scattered about in other parts of Europe and Asia. Now I am nearly four years in America. I shall wait till Henry Breed dies. He will die in a year or possibly two. Then I shall go back to Switzerland to publish my great work. I shall die myself soon after that. I, too, have a fatal nervous disease, but it cannot kill me before five years, and I cannot live beyond seven. But my book will live. That will be the valuable part of Dr. Zephaniah. Immortality of the soul? No. Immortality of the body? No. Immortality of the brain? Yes. Forever!"

"Possibly," agreed Philip dryly. "No doubt, doctor, your work will be accepted as a standard. Five years afterward some other savant will write another four volume work upsetting all your theories, and five years after that somebody will mention your name to a noted alienist or student of neurotics and he will say: 'Zephaniah—Dr. Zephaniah? Um-m-m—the name seems a trifle familiar. Didn't he discover one of those exploded serum treatments or something?'"

"Bah!" snapped the doctor, and his beard, now beginning to streak with gray, seemed to turn redder from the redness of his face behind it. "Bah!" he repeated, but this time the exclamation was weaker, and Philip as he went downstairs felt a prick of compunction at having hit the doctor such a vital blow.

Philip found the library deserted and sat down with his back to the door to examine a volume on numismatics that lay open upon the table. Soft hands were suddenly clasped over his eyes, and Lillian Breed pressed her lips warmly to his. At the touch he crushed her in his arms and returned her kiss with something akin to fierceness. Then he thrust her away from him almost roughly.

"You are most indiscreet," he protested, looking at the wide open door. "Why not?" she demanded, laughing.

"If somebody stepped in upon us we should only have to make an announcement."

He winced involuntarily at that, and she saw it. There had been that between them which makes a woman fonder and a man more careless. For a moment she laid her hands upon her breast, but she was surprised to find that there came no hot retort, usually so ready upon her lips. Without effort, without exerting himself to do so, Kelvin had for the time being tamed the wild panther within her, and her only impulse she found to be one of conciliation. She smiled up at him, her swift wit settling upon the quick change of topic that might interest him in her mental qualities, but prompt as she was there came an interruption in the person of Dr. Zephaniah, who called Philip peremptorily. "I want to show you something," he said to Philip at the door. "Breed is down in his vault dressed in all the gaudy mummery of a lodge initiation, squatted flat on the floor, with money scattered all about him and his old Bible before him on a chair, like a voodoo idol. And he is jabbering garbled texts that in his interpretation are worse than blasphemy."

Lillian, left to herself, stood a moment, her breast heaving, and then dropped into the chair that Kelvin had vacated and grew deeply thoughtful. She had scarcely moved when, at the end of about twenty minutes, Herbert Rensselaer was announced.

"It is a pleasure to find you alone," he observed. "You are so very popular that an edgewise word with you is a rare boon. You've made yourself the sensation of Washington."

"No," Lillian protested thoughtfully. "I may have achieved some personal popularity, but much more, it is humiliating to confess, is due to grandfather's position in the world and the capitalized force it represents. I doubt if even money, however, could have secured me the recognition which Mrs. Rensselaer has won for me. The Rensselaer name is a powerful one socially."

"It is just that about which I was going to speak to you," said Herbert with awkward bluntness. "I am prepared to offer you the Rensselaer name for your own."

Lillian looked up at him and smiled. "The dream of your respected aunt," she laughed. "Herbert, you're a nice boy, but I'm not in love with you. Are you with me?"

"Well, no," he confessed with infinite relief. "I thought not," she returned, still laughing. "It is a pity to disappoint your aunt, but let's do that very thing. You're too good a friend of mine to spoil."

"I'm beginning to like you immensely," confessed Herbert. "Let's shake hands on it," which they cordially did. At almost the same moment Sumner Rollins had made a quite different proposal, one with the whole heart and the whole love and the whole honor of a stalwart man, and Elsie White, with sorrow that it must be so, searched in her heart and found for him only friendship, and the man whose image blocked the way of Rollins was thinking of her even then, to the entire forgetfulness of Lillian Breed.

In a hundred cities there were riot and discord. In a thousand villages there was grave panic. In a million homes there was hunger. Commerce was paralyzed, and three months after Senator Sawyer had threatened a revolt the entire United States was in a state bordering on anarchy. Processions of the unemployed had been clubbed into disruption. Street corner speakers, among whom Ben White had become prominent for a certain rudely effective oratory, were suppressed. Gatherings in halls were censored by the police, the militia or the rapidly increasing army of regular soldiers, and were broken up, sometimes with bloodshed, at the least sign of inflammatory speech. The consequence was natural. Secret meetings were held everywhere, and the emissaries of Blagg gained converts by the tens and the hundreds of thousands from coast to coast. The chaos that Kelvin had deliberately inaugurated to serve his own ends was serving the ends of Blagg equally well. The throwing of bombs, with terrific consequence to public safety, became common—so common, indeed, that the life of no public man was secure, yet Kelvin, attended by his usual guard, went everywhere. He seemed to bear a charmed life, and on the very day he declared martial law throughout the Union, when every newspaper was against him and when countless hordes were clamoring for his death, he went calmly to Forest Lakes to keep an appointment with Henry Breed. Five hundred grim, armed men, indifferent to the turmoil of the world outside, now guarded the grounds, and Kelvin spoke of them the moment he met Breed.

"I want your men," said he. "I have examined the faces of them. They are mountaineers every one and men of blind allegiance. I need them in Washington."

"No," protested Breed. "I have been years in selecting them, and they must stay here to guard Forest Lakes and me, and what you know to be in the vault below."

"The vault needs no guarding," replied Kelvin. "We'll remove it's contents very shortly to the government treasury, anyhow. The time is ripe, and my plan is to be carried out at once."

"Our plan, you mean," corrected Breed, smiling, whereat Kelvin's eyes contracted for a second.

It was significant of the remarkable control that Kelvin had obtained over this man, whose once indomitable will had bent the commerce of a nation to his own ends, that he protested no further against the appropriation of his picked guards. Instead, he turned eagerly to the immense portfolios when Sam brought in. Spreading this upon the library table, Kelvin opened it, disclosing a thick stack of the large diagrams so characteristic of him.

Breed, restored at once to his shrewd old calculating self, leafed carefully over the neat cardboard diagrams which gave, in turn, comprehensive surveys of the entire extent, condition, and prospects of textile manufacturers, of the steel industry, of meat packing, of merchandising, of every branch of human industry and commerce, each with all its ramifications. From the experience of his nearly fourscore years Breed made a crisp, brief, and pregnant comment upon each industry, upon which occupation Doctor Zephaniah beamed through his thick spectacles with approval, for Breed was never so normal as at these conferences, when the habit of his business perspicacity came upon him. Far into the night they sat over this work, with Zephaniah as interested lookers on, and when it came time for Philip to retire he was very weary. Leaving the others still in conversation, he was about to make his way to his own apartments, but Lucy met him at the head of the stairs.

"They have been making some repairs up that way, Mr. Kelvin," she informed him. "and we'll have to change your rooms for this visit."

BURBANK—"HER HUSBAND'S WIFE."

The Burbank audiences are promised a rare treat in good, wholesome fun this week, in Henry Miller's sprightly comedy, "Her Husband's Wife." The piece was made known locally a year or so ago by Mr. Miller, on which occasion it scored a laugh. It is just about as lively and as crisp and uproariously funny as anything the native stage has known in years, and with such a charming comedienne as Miss Illington in the chief feminine role it is no difficult matter to prophesy a series of performances that will set new standards of Burbank hilarity.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

Following the opening of his studio over a year ago on Brand boulevard, Tropico, Mr. E. H. Weston received many expressions of doubt as to its possible success. "Poor location," "Community not large enough to support a pretentious studio," "Ought to do cheap work, postcards, stamp pictures, etc., to make it go." But Weston had a good opinion of the class of people in this valley and has held his business up to the standard set by their good tastes, constantly trying to improve the artistic and technical quality of his photographs. He has chosen to enter many competitions as furnishing an incentive to draw out his best ideas. Out of seventeen pictures entered in various parts of the country he had won many valuable prizes and has never failed to receive at least an honorable mention.

Specializing in the photographing of children with unsurpassed success, he has given the parents of this vicinity an opportunity to obtain work of quality without the necessity of a tiresome trip to Los Angeles.

The Weston Studio has succeeded beyond the hopes of its owner and is now assuredly on the road to greater success.

RETURNED FROM NORWAY.

Mrs. G. W. Linn arrived home last week after a three months' absence during which she visited her old home in Norway after an absence of twenty years. She found great changes in that country, the cities of Christiania and Trondhjem which she visited having all the appearance of modern American cities, the former with a population of 229,000 and the latter with 38,000 people. The distance in time from New York to Christiania is only ten days and Mrs. Linn had a delightful voyage both ways.
